ALOE · VIA

LR ALOE VIA ALOE VERA TONING SET

Skin imperfections such as cellulite, local fat and saggiess appear in most women, namely 85-98% of women face this issue.

What is happening?

When the underlying fatty deposits begin to be pushed to the connective tissue, the skin loses its elasticity and firmness, causing an orange peel effect. This can occur on the upper arms, the thighs, the calves and the abdomen.

What's the reason?

- Uneven skin texture is a multifactorial aesthetic problem.
- Nutrition is important; therefore, it is recommended to avoid sugar and fat and adopt healthy nutritional habits.

- A sedentary lifestyle and a lack of physical activity worsen the problem
- Hereditary factors play an important role
- As well as other hormonal and medical factors

The solution

While there is no proven treatment for this skin issue, LR Health & Beauty products can help reduce skin imperfections, in combination with a healthy lifestyle.

Aloe Vera, in combination with green tea extract and effective ingredient complexes, helps improve skin texture and makes you feel beautiful and confident.

PROTECTION FROM URINARY TRACT INFECTIONS

July is at the height of summer and visiting the beach is a daily routine for many people.

For many women, however, swimming in the sea or the pool and coming in contact with beach sand can be a nightmare, as it brings to mind urogenital disorders such as urinary tract infections and vaginitis.

The data show that three quarters of women will develop vaginitis at some point in their lives. This is mainly due to anatomy, since the female urinary and genital systems are vulnerable to many factors that can cause infections. To avoid any problems, the predominance of healthful bacteria, also known as probiotics, is essential.

Factors such as hormones, the body's overall defense mechanisms, and the use of various medication can affect bladder and vaginal health.

Our suggestion for strengthening the body's defenses against urinary tract infections is:

- Strengthening the body's defense through probiotics and prebiotics. Pro 12 contains probiotics and prebiotics (fructooligosaccharides). Pro 12 means 12 different bacterial strains and 1 billion probiotic bacteria per capsule. The patented microencapsulation process effectively protects valuable bacteria, ensuring they reach their target.

- Drinking enough water and urinating frequently can also protect from urinary tract infections. The limited edition Aloe Vera Drinking Gel Acai Pro Summer ensures our body is adequately hydrated and provides us with significant antioxidants. The fruit juices contained offer an important contribution to the health of the urinary system.

These 2 nutritional products can be easily incorporated into your daily routine and strengthen your body's defenses, helping you avoid or prevent these infections.
